

Miscellaneous photographs of the group in action

Digging a drainage ditch on the East side of the mountain to drain water from the Dyffryn Coch adit

Removal of debris from the Dyffryn Coch adit. This may give access to early 18th century workings Clearance of the Mona adit drainage ditch. This allowed re-entrance to the adit in early 2000.

Work on a new Parys mine entrance and the clearance of debris just below ground

Wading through thick ochre and water in the joint drainage adit at Dyffryn Adda

Formations in the Morfa Ddu adit .